

LUCKY'S COWBOY CODED MESSAGES

While on vacation with his family, Mr. Lucky sent a postcard to the whole PALZ team. But he wrote it using cowboy lingo. Miss Kitty and the team need your helping reading it! Use the key below to find out what Mr. Lucky had to say and write the message on the lines provided.

Lucky's Cowboy Word Key:

"Howdy pardners".....	Hello friends!	"belly up".....	move close to or move toward
"rustle up".....	gather	"fixin' to"	going to
"reckon"	think	"tenderfoot"	new cowboy
"ya"	you	"chow"	food
"rootin-tootin ".....	exciting or rowdy	"chuckwagon"	wagon carrying food
"jawin"	talking	"yeehaw"	expresses excitement or joy

Lucky's Message

Howdy, pardners! I'm having a rootin-tootin time in Arizona! I was jawin' with some of the tenderfoots and discovered they get chow from a chuckwagon while on the trail! Do ya reckon they give out cheese too? I love cheese!

I'm not barkin' at a knot now, though. I'm fixin' to belly up to that chuckwagon so I can rustle up lots of chow before the tenderfoots get it. Yeehaw!

Mr. Lucky

Lucky's Message Translated

Your Turn!

Use the key above to write your own message just like a cowboy would say it.

Answer:

Hello friends! I'm having a exciting good time in Arizona! I was talking with some of the new cowboys and discovered they get food from a wagon while on the trail! Do you think they give out cheese too? I love cheese!

I'm not wasting valuable time now, though. I'm about to move over to that wagon with food so I can gather up lots of food before the new cowboys get it. Yippy!

Mr. Lucky